The Royal Tennis Club of Stockholm, February 25 to March 5, 2023

Super Saturday

On Saturday, we will get the chance to see which players will be the final contenders for the 2023 Kungens Kanna & Drottningens Pris titles. An exciting day of semi-finals awaits.

Marilyn Van Brempt took an impressive win against the Czech Veronika Sekerkova, who was previously almost unbeatable among the juniors born 2009. Joyce Geng continues to show that she is one of the best players in the world, maybe even the best?

Both Ksenia Efremova and Anna Pushkareva continue to show their quality. Pushkareva will also play in the doubles final on Saturday.

On the boys' side, it will be a battle of the giants between Savva Rybkin and Mark Ceban. These two guys are powerhouses that would give senior players a hard time.

Artem Semenov is the only unseeded player who faces the solid Pole, Jan Urbanski.

Girls Singles Semi-Finals:

Anna Pushkareva – Joyce Geng (Canada)

Ksenia Efremova – Marilyn Van Brempt (Belgium)

Boys Singles Semi-Finals:

Mark Ceban (England) – Savva Rybkin

Artem Semenov – Jan Urbanski (Poland)

The day begins at 9.30, with finals in the bonus draw and the semi-finals at 11. The doubles finals starts not before 13.00.

See you at the Royal Tennis Hall!
